

MVH3

If the hare ain't live,
it ain't Mt. Vernon.

Run: # 844

Date: July 26, 2003

Hares: Jointed Staff, Hollow Point,
Womb Broom, I'm not Black I'm Cocoa Brown

Location: Lee District Park

TACOMA AROMA/BYE TO JOINTED STAFF

The convertibles were brought out of the garage to enjoy the sunshine! Big Bird Turd, AndHow'sHerBush and Late Cummer were showing their all. The GayShip Lollipop and Let'sMakeADeal were brought out to lead the pack in Father'A. Some how the pack started chanting "that's good, that's really really good" with these raindrop hand motions. It was like watching the group at the old folks home going through their non-strenuous aerobics class. Luckily no one pulled a muscle! Though I do have intel Becuz He Can fractured a foot bone. Aha – announcing an opening in the FRB pack!!

Trail

The pack was off at 1013 hours and raced into the recreation area. They spread out searching for that first elusive splotch of blue flour. Oozing like a huge ameba the pack swelled to the right as 'On-Right' was called. Recoiling from the 'BT' it swelled around two fields, engulfing them, slowing when BTs were called, it quickly regrouped and flowed to the middle as On-On was called. Deep into the woods the trailed ebbed and flowed until the inevitable powered line loomed before us. Luckily the hares knew better and kept the pack out of the sun putting us back into the woods. Inevitably the scribe reclaimed last place until Lady Bugger ran past going away from the pack. Hmmm – something about hunting. Well the short cut actually worked. Still had a few tributaries to cross but we entered the woods with the pack. This was the first true cluster f*ck I've witnessed in a long time. Seems that MVH3 has lost its keen sense of following trail overland! The pask has gotten so out of practice that few knew how to stay on flour. Indeed a large portion of the pack returned close to the same direction it had just left. Luckily some hashers knew how to follow trail – Bavarian Bush was with this group. Little did we know that she would eventually miss the split. Attempting to keep up with this group was Seven Minutes, Lady Bugger, Granny Boulders, HardWood.Cum and Seaman Hole. Seaman Hole when asked why she didn't cum more often exclaimed that she couldn't get her boyfriend up. Makes sense to me! Well, we made it across the road before the rest of the pack, it felt like years, was saved by Byte Lightening. Quietly the FRBs passed us - one-by-one, Cunning Runt, Dr. Jekyll, French Freedom Almost Kabob Toasted, Crossed Hairs - no 'good day' or 'hello'. I believe they were all too embarrassed to admit they had been deceived by the cunning hares. I thought it interesting that ChapaQuickDick jogged by at this time as he normally is not a FRB. This part of trail was all pavement through a lovely community; luckily they was a thick tree canopy for much of it. As we took the turkey-eagle split CRAFTY came up on and almost followed us. We sent him away up the eagle trail with promises of beer at the end.

The trail delved back into the woods along winding trails with tree sized poison ivy with outstretched arms waiting for some one to mistake it for a normal tree branch. This is where the rest of the pack started to catch up. The souls that were lost – Continental Drip, Erection Master, Drive Through, Just Harold, and Three-Times a Lady. Some chatted about violations on trail. Blank Check for talking incessantly about work – I can only assume he thought the trail was boring. The story about Crossed Hairs and ThreeTimes going the wrong way at a check and Three Times ended up going the whole way around the marina. Dr. Strangelove became separated from the pack but the police found him anyway. He explained how it really was just flour and we were very innocent and kind and law-abiding citizens. He didn't ask if we lied!!

LATE

Goofy and Drippy Dick arrived after the pack was off and being the long time hashers that they are, eventually found trail. Good thing since Drippy had invited Young Flesh out for her fist MVH3. But they arrived in time for the Hamburgers, Hot Dogs, Baked Beans, etc. People drank everything as the day was hot and humid.

CIRCLE

14K Cock may have controlled the circle but couldn't do nuthin' about the kids splashing in the middle of the circle in the wading pool. So Blank Check decided to chase all the kids away by dropping Granny Boulders into the pool.

Namings Hardwood.Cum defended her name. The pack, those that were listening, found the name fitting for one who models lingerie for a web site.

Violations NEW SHOES - Lady Bugger.
NEW CAR: AndHow'sHerBush

Environmental: Gay Ship Lollipop- pissing (Ed note – isn't this normal?). At the start, Granny Boulders and Cunning Runt immediately raced to the park facility because it had toilet paper. Bee Stings for You've Got Tail and Burnt Sox. New Jobs – CRAFTY and Missing Link. Misc: Pay Per View spending $40 to watch dick tricks when they are only $5 at the hash! Flying Burito for scritch-scratchy chalk sounds which caused all the dogs to howl. Byte Lighening was turned in for fashion statement – as cork Screwed stated "those pants wer new 10 or 12 years ago!!"

Hashit someone is keeping it hostage!
