TRAIL REPORT

We must be very good hashers, the Hash gods keep granting us amazing weather. This week's A to A started at the VRE which was strategically placed next to a Burger King. I saw several hashers sneaking in before the start. Quite a few of our regulars were missing as they were getting a head start on the Cardiff interhash. Those Cardiff stiffies who had not yet left, lead Father Abraham. Wankers Aweigh won the fashion award this week by managing to match everything top to bottom with the color red, even his Gatorade was Red!!! There was quite the selection of lighting devices, seems some of us can (and do) actually read the directions prior to heading out. This was the Springfield tunnel tour and it lived up to its name. There were three long tunnels (one was REALLY, REALLY, REALLY long). The good news was that the tunnels were tall enough to stand (for most of us anyway). The bad news was it was way dark and if you didn't have a light, you had to make friends with someone who was wiser than you. Along with tunnels, there were several creeks (can you call the sewage that flows thru the tunnels creeks??). Diaper Rash took a face plant in one of said creeks. Burnt Sox and AndHowsHerBush also tested the water. Many spots were more than waist deep even if you stayed upright. Wankers and B'cuz He Can both fell, but not in the water, seems Wankers found the booby trap wire and BHC tripped over it even with the warning. Poopdeck (of course) found a shortcut (thus diminishing the earlier longcut). Fortunately, I saw him and after a moments hesitation decided to follow. We managed to be the first ones in. Waiting for us were Hot Legs and DangeRously Close sitting on a blanket and reading poetry to one another, very touching! They had the dangerous job of watching our bags. Cunning Runt and Blank Check were the FRBs. Cap't Titanic had a chance, but it wouldn't really count as he did his own trail, not being one for closed spaces. There was a little concern when police with flashing lights were spotted above the tracks, but WE DIDN'T DO IT!!!

The circle was led by Burnt Sox and LuLu (Good thing for LuLu). The following violations were noted. AndHowsHerBush was cited for making money on the hash (he found five pennies on trail). Red Snapper was heard complaining that this was the longest tunnel

IMPORTANT

Be sure to brush your teeth before coming to the hash just in case you find yourself in the situation of kissing your fellow hashers!!

ever. The Hares were chastised for having a water check with no beer. CRAFTY was heard admitting impotence to Bad Ditch (something about not being able to get it up). Big Bird Turd and Whack Me Smack Me were far too mellow and proclaimed there was nothing but love on the trail. Big Sweaty Pussy and Leave It In Beaver both had environmental violations. Blank Check misled BSP and after getting lost BSP phoned in for directions. Clorox Kid was beat up for wearing his own home-made hash shirt and Dual Airbags and Seven Minutes were caught whining at the end. They thought they were the last ones in, but 14K straggled in almost at the end of the circle. The big 'winner' was Burnt Sox. First he showed up without his shoes, then he borrowed someone's size 9 shoes (he wears 11 I'm told). And when someone lost a larger shoe in the mud, he tried to steal it for his own. Then it turned out, he actually had his stuff in the car!! It seemed like a hands down for the hashit, until someone found a large, very wet pair of titey whiteys on the ground, GROSS!!! Still it wasn't enough to overcome the great travesty and Burnt Sox now owns the hashit.

PS - Hollow Point brought his new digital camera and took a ton of great pictures. He has them posted http://members.cox.net/hp\_mv3/index.html. The ones near the end have the circle and a few incriminating ones with Burnt Sox wearing the underwear mentioned above.

On-On -

ALTERNATIVE TRAIL REPORT

Many of you aren't familiar with a PUT IT OUT trail... here is how it works: Put It Out does not go out and scout for a start location. Ohhhh Noooo, that would be too ordinary! As a fireman, Put It Out (get it? PUT IT OUT - FIREMAN!) has access to all kinds of interesting maps... for instance, he can view all the STORM DRAIN TUNNELS in Northern Va. SO, when he gets a new map, he seeks out the longest most "attractive" tunnel and THEN he plans his trail. Now, "attractive" is a subjective term, and therefore is subject to each person's interpretation. "Attractive" to one person may NOT be so "attractive" to other people. I personally applaud PUT IT OUT for his ingenuity and creative use of the resources he has at hand. His trails are fun, well marked, of good length, and not overdone with all kinds of silly things like Eagle trail/Turkey trail plus Walkers trails, YBF trails, sewage ditches, barbed wire fences, swimming in swamps, No Trespassing areas, etc. Good plain hashing fun including tunnels for a bit of added excitement! Those hashers new to haring (and maybe a few others!) could take a lesson. Ask him and Put It Out may just help you plan a great trail that will become one of the favorites for the year! And that's my $.02! On-On,

DangeRously Close
