Hash Trash for 18 Nov 2006
Run Number 1021

Hares: Byte Lightning, Dual Airbags, and Crash Test Dummy

A cold crisp November morning brought the pack down south again to Dale City and another K Mart start (one would think that Loan Shark (Byte's separated at birth brother) and Organ Icer were setting this trail). Byte Lightning was dressed as if it was summer, or else he just couldn't find a pair of tights to fit on his skinny legs anymore. I would have paid more attention to the circle and Father Abraham but I was distracted along with most of the other male hashers by the sight of Cunning Runt's nipples (one of the perks of cold weather running). Who says that size matters?

Trail headed down a muddy hill to several checks and then the first of four cold-water crossings each knee deep or better. Now we all know Byte Lightning hates water so what was he drinking to cause him to set a trail across four bodies of water in November of all times of the year? The FRB gang of five Cunning Runt, Doctor Jekyll, Pulls Out Early, Billy Goat MF and French Toasted took turns early leading the pack through muck and mire. Then at a check French Toasted took the high road and disappeared for a long time not to be seen again until the circle (it must have been a nice shortcut).

After heading down a couple BTs I found myself running behind Wankers Aweigh only to watch him do a triple twist over a tree root and plant his face on trail. I gave him 9.45 for style. The pack eventually hit a stretch of hills and crossed a busy street to rejoin the walkers including Hans Solo, For Sale or Rent, Do Me Next Week and Red Snapper. They had all survived the trauma of walkers nearly having to get their feet wet. The only other complaints were from stroller babies getting whacked in the face with branches. Shortly after the pack caught up to the walkers, the trail markings we all crave Beer Near and On In were spotted!

The pack was treated to a fine meal of chili dogs, chocolate covered pretzels, cheetos, and beer. During the feeding frenzy I became aware of a bit of hash news. The lovely Puke Me Up Buttercup is with child. Our MV pack will be expanding just ...doubt will Puke Me Up (start thinking up some baby names). Ass Ogre upon learning this news stated that "You've been f*cking" (not too much gets by Ass Ogre).

The quiet and demure Dual Airbags took over as RA (then she squawks like an eagle) for a day and the circle was well underway when Loan Shark wandered in with Organ Icer and a few other hashers. They were all invited into the circle to drink for having group sex on trail (how does that old guy do it?). And How's Her Bush was noted bleeding from some leg wound and explaining that it was a hash treasure (good thing he isn't a hemophiliac). Dr Jekyll spent much of the circle grooming himself as he tried to pick the burrs off his tights after a poor trail choice. The hashsh*t was missing in action again so no one was honored with the prized item this week.
