DOG GIVES BIRTH TO MAN

Dingleberry, USA - A Louisiana fisherman received the shock of his life when he discovered his prize coon dog had given birth to a full-grown male human. "I heard this funny noise comin' from the back of my pickup and there he was." Said Biggun Clampett. When he first discovered the dog was pregnant, he had planned to sell the puppies. Mr. Clampett does not know what he will do with the man, who he plans to call Shock-a-cock.

"Guess I could put him to work on the boat once he's weaned." Mr. Clampett quipped.

WOMAN FINDS GIANT BREASTS IN SHIRT

Weredafuckizitstan, Russia - A simple village maid woke on a bright day in May to find that she had acquired a little something extra in the night. "I have no idea where they came from"

Thirtyeight Flavors said through an interpreter. "I went to bed flat as board and when I woke up BOOM, there they were."

The news spread quickly throughout the tiny hamlet and before noon she had received six marriage proposals, 15 indecent proposals and a telegram from Hugh Hefner. "I don't know what I will do," Ms. Flavors said heaving a sigh that caused a near-riot among the group of men who have besieged her hovel. "make some new blouses I guess. I feel like I am carrying two, what do you call them? Cantaloupes."

DESPERATE COUPLE TRIES TO WARD OFF SARS

Frozen Bone, Toronto - Mr. & Mrs. A. Bush were scared and willing to try anything. The Canadian couple watched as news reports related the progress of the SARS virus, and then they discovered the threat right in their home.

"Our TV was made in Korea and I'm pretty sure that's close to China." Andhowsher Bush explained. "We didn't know what to do", Burning Bush added, "until we saw how you can catch it from doody." Their unique, and typically Canadian solution to the problem? Crap onto bags of ice. "Our asses are chapped, my balls are the size of acorns and BB is pretty frigid, but so far we haven't gotten sick," Andhowsher Bush concluded bravely.

MAN ATTACKS NEIGHBOR FOR LAUGHING AT HIS HAT

Worralorrhorra, Australia - A bout of friendly joking turned violent late last week when Mr. P.I. Blanket, made a sneering reference to his neighbor's hat. "My big gay uncle Al gave me this hat. I loved my big gay uncle Al!" Burnt Sox was heard to scream shortly before he was lead away by police.

"He was too drunk to do much harm", Constable Snap Crackle, Poop, the arresting officer, stated, "I guess he just didn't want anyone to laugh at his big gay hat."

VIRGINS ON THE BLOCK

Tingaling, Nepal - Members of the Hopetobonya tribe repeated a ritual that dates back to the 10th century when they gathered for their weekly virgin auction. WoWo, the tribe's religious advisor is shown here displaying the week's latest offerings: Just Cheryl, Just Art, Just Angie & Just Michelle. Virgins are highly prized by the Hopetoboneyas and command a high price. "One man traded 24 oxen, 18 white camels and a yak for a virgin," stated Bundling Board, the village elder, "but the average price is four chickens and a goat."

Specially trained virgins fetch a higher price. Just Michelle (left) demonstrates why Sleazy Like Sunday Morning (right) gladly forked over 10 ducks and 4 cows.

SINGERS SPOTS ELVIS IN CROWD

Bali, Indonesia - Well-known chanteuse, Karaoke Queen, got a shock during her tour of exotic Bali. "I was signing some autographs when I heard this hauntingly familiar crooning. I looked up and saw someone who looked a bit like Elvis." KQ (known for such pop favorites as: Ride me Hard & Hang Me Up Wet, and Doin' the Two Backed Beast Tango) screamed, and when order was restored the man had disappeared. Later she would admit that she was "pretty stoned at the time." Nonetheless the Elvis Lives Fan Club of Arugula, MS has declared Bali a pilgrimage site.

BARE AED IN THE PARK

Joggers out for a little exercise Sunday morning got more than a work out thanks to these two men. "I didn't know [backsides] could be so white!" exclaimed Nut Mechanic, shown here bringing up the rear, so to speak.

"Talk about your cracks of doom," gasped Tipher Whipper between bouts of nausea. "I thought at first someone had decided to go running with loaves of unbaked dough strapped to their butts!" The local police chief Golden Showers has vowed to launch an in-depth probe into the ass incident and will take any steps to head off such activities in the future.

MADMAN FLAYS WOMAN, FORCES "BEER BITCH" TO WEAR SKIN

Wounded, NE - In the most shocking display of violence reported by The Weekly World Trash since last week, an unidentified Nebraska man flayed his ex, accosted an unsuspecting woman and forced her to wear the skin. Just Kathy, who was treated for shock after the incident was scarcely able to give a coherent account of the incident.

"I was just standing there, minding my own business when he grabbed me and said I was his beer bitch." Associates of the man stated that this happens every week, but they were too afraid to say anything. WWT
