Tourist Descend!

It is that special time of year that we can wear the black socks and tevas. Pay off that bling bling Hawaiian shirt from lay away. Did you remember your fanny pack and extra film? If you finished your travel itinerary you were ready for Smooth Grove, Ego Testicle, and F'em Danno's Tourist Hash 2004 Part I

Georgetown property values may never be the same after a gaggle of hashers met at the start circle. Surrogate RA Please Step Away from the Whores led a titillating start circle. At least that is what Run Away Snatch said. Of course she had her vibrate phone in her bra pleading for hashers to call her. Titillating to say the least. I wish there was a device that vibrates for the tactile stimulation of hypersensitive body areas. I would call it a "vibrator."

Danno promised, no shiggy, no motorcycles, and no back checks. Lies all lies. There was plenty of shiggy on Roosevelt Island. Motorcycles were a plenty on Route 66 and the back check 9? Who is he trying to fool? Apparently he fooled the entire hash while they ran past the back check in search of trail. The BC9 was clearly marked in chalk at eye level. No Genitals and Sux it Blue were the only hashers to notice the sign. Of course, in pack mentality they played lemming. Caminito confirmed that the posh fountain at Sequoia Restaurant could also serve as a drinking fountain.

Beer Check YES! Thanks Brew Crew. I am glad to know the product has been sampled and approved for my drinking pleasure. We checked near the r*nnng trail in Rosslyn. There is something pleasing about indulging in the sweet nectar while meters away over-achievers are trimming and toning their body to a healthier life. Nerds.

Rear Area Security had complained earlier, "For Georgetown we have not had any hills." To top off what was a <cough> very good trail<cough>, we ascended the Exorcist stairs to the Georgetown campus.

The end circle was at our favorite of Georgetown hot spot. You know it, our little van down by the river near the sewer runoff location. Feral child Rear End Loader our guest leader ran a fantabulous circle. Our super hares demonstrated the proper technique for a down down. And they deserved it.

We also had an opportunity to ostracize the violators. I think that punishment beer will curtail their behavior. We had some of the most fun virgins in recent history. Virgin One chugged her beer like, well it was cold beer after a long run. The Virgin Two actually wore the beer. I am talking of a 10oz beer shampoo. It was awesome. There was a dude virgin too, I think.

Violations – Repeat Offenders

1. All Veterans (Armed Cervixes) Protecting the Nation is a tough job and we violate these hashers with beer.
2. Two Lips in the Bush- (God Damn Genius) “I do not know why people are going up the Exorcist stairs. I already know the end circle is going to be by the river. I told everyone and they still ran the stairs.” Yeah 2Lips, you practically deciphered the Rosetta Stone because you knew a hash would end at the most hasher friendly location on the planet.
3. Run Away Snatch - (Phone Sex) Literally, it was phone sex. The phone was on her dirty places.
4. Semen on the Pew and Turtle Dick (Frogger) “After the back check I thought it would be easier to dart across 5 lanes of Route 66 than run on the sidewalk.” Leave the thinking to the professionals and just follow the pack. 50 half minds are better than one.
5. Two Lips in the Bush – (Self Promotion) – “The number on my arm? Racing? Nooo it is 3-69. It is my dating score sheet.” – Anyone believe that?
6. Run Away Snatch - (Technology Box) Tourist hash does not mean bring a satellite wrist communicator. Hasselhoff would have been proud.
7. Hot Tuna – (Fishy Box) Hot Tuna had a bigger box than Runaway!
8. Too Short To Flop (Contributing to the Delinquency of Hashers) So perhaps you did not get your fill at the beer check. Maybe the end circle did not whet you whistle. The OnOnOn is always a good place for some suds. 2short thought it would be appropriate to invite all hashers to his house AFTER an OnOnOn for even more drink. Give us a break.
