BadDog Makes 200 Runs, Voter Fraud Allegations Abound

BadDog makes it to 200. In what originally sounded like a case of ballot fraud research shows that he has indeed been to over 200 runs. After investigating who got chad pregnant, other questions arose about how he was able to raise the funds for well over a thousand dollars worth of hashing, yet still drives the VW rabbit that has been alleged to have a broken drivers seat. We did not dig any further upon fear of what we would discover, but the IRS, DEA, and DNR have been notified.

In other news, HappyOnHisFeet made it to his 69th run and was awarded a very attractive paper cup.

Hashers Confused as Legitimate Terrorists

A Bolivian Embassy guard had an exciting afternoon when the combination of an alleged terrorist throwing a bluish white powdery substance and an explosion near the front gate. Witnesses report that the alleged terrorist was a member of an orienteering group while other research indicates that this is typical of local drinking groups. The explosion originally appeared to be tied to the terrorists appearance, but later investigation by metro police revealed the automobile hitting the curb and its subsequent tire puncture were the cause of the disturbance and appeared to be completely unrelated. It's also rumored that the Embassy involved may not have been the Bolivian, but that never stopped us from reporting events in the past.

Hashers Visit VP, No One Home

As is not unusual for President's Day weekend, the hash made their customary stop to the home of the Vice President in Glover Park. The trail went through various forms of asphalt and trails until we reached a beer check and continued on to the finish. Hashers stopped to see if Dick was home at his house, but the Secret Service informed us that he was next door at Good Guys.

Police Report

The following people were cited for the following violations.

Just Rodney - for worst pick up line he used on 3 beautiful women on trail, "Hello Ladies."

$50 Bitch, Can't Lay Shit, and PleaseStepAway - for not only autohashing, but not carpooling.

GeorgeStuffedAnOctopus for going down on BloodyAsshole's heels.

DuckJob for being proud of beating BadDog to the finish.

Bret Farve for claiming to be a hasher called DancesWithDogs and not even showing up at the Super Bowl.

MudFlap for eating a Cheetoh that he found on the dirt trail he was laying.

WANTED FOR QUESTIONING

$50 Bitch is wanted for questioning regarding allegations of terrifying wildlife and potential abuse. Allegations of inappropriate care of wild animals and various other charges against the endangered species act. Clarification of the statement, "Ducky was proud of beating BadDog" raises questions about a pattern of animal abuse.
